CRAFT/PROFESSION

Amélie is a skilled artisan specializing in jewelry creation under the brand "LES BIJOUX DU LAGON." Based in New Caledonia, she creates unique and authentic pieces inspired by the island's natural treasures. Her carefully crafted jewelry incorporates marine elements such as sand and seashells, which she combines with resin to produce works that capture the essence of Caledonian beauty.

BACKGROUND

Originally from mainland France, Amélie made a bold move in 2021 to settle in New Caledonia, driven by a desire to explore a new environment. Before this, she worked as a childcare assistant in a maternity ward. However, her passion for manual activities, particularly scrapbooking and paper crafting, has always been a part of her life. When she began experimenting with local materials, the idea of creating jewelry using the island's sand and seashells became a natural progression. After extensive research on jewelry-making techniques and working with resin, she embarked on this creative adventure. She also gained valuable experience in jewelry production while working for a company, which further enhanced her skills and enabled her to develop her own line of products.

INSPIRATION AND ART/DESIGN

Amélie's inspiration comes directly from the idyllic landscapes and natural resources of New Caledonia. The vibrant colors of the lagoon, the soft texture of the sand, and the raw beauty of the seashells are at the heart of her creations. Each piece of jewelry she makes reflects a part of the island, blending authenticity with elegance. Amélie ensures that her pieces are not only beautiful but also suitable for everyone, including children. Her love for what she does is evident in every creation, making LES BIJOUX DU LAGON a true tribute to Caledonian nature.
